Committee, superintendent to meet

Bay teachers seeking better pay or benefits

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
A committee representing Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District teachers plans to meet early this week with J.D. McCullough, superintendent of education, to demand some sort of local pay increase.

Some 40 incensed teachers, about one-third of the district's 95-member faculty, met Thursday night at City-County Library in Bay St. Louis to formulate a plan of action.

The teachers object to administrators receiving locally-funded raises ranging from 11-9.5 percent and the instructors not receiving any additional money from the Bay district.

Judy Barrett, took issue with a Thursday news article in The Sea Coast Echo reporting the district board of trustees approved 1983-84 school year pay increases for all employees.

She noted the teacher pay raises only reflect a state funded $1,000 pay hike for each teacher.

Although Linda Reeves, president of the Mississippi Association of Educators Bay St. Louis Chapter, and Burt Barrett of the Bay and MAE Gulf Coast UnitServ Region director chaired the meeting, they emphasized the gathering was not an association event.

Reeves said the meeting included school district teachers who want more pay which they feel will draw better educators here and improve instructional quality.

Attending the meeting were teachers from Waveland and North Bay Elementary and Bay Junior and Senior High Schools.

Barrett noted during the last five years the gap between administrator and teacher pay scales has widened substantially, primarily due to McCullough's administrator pay increase formula.

"Under the current formula, every time your salary goes up $100, theirs (the administrators' salaries) goes up $150," he stated.

The group agreed to submit four optional demands to McCullough and if he did not agree with or skirted dealing with teachers, the committee will make a formal request to be placed on the board of trustees May 9 meeting agenda to air their grievances.

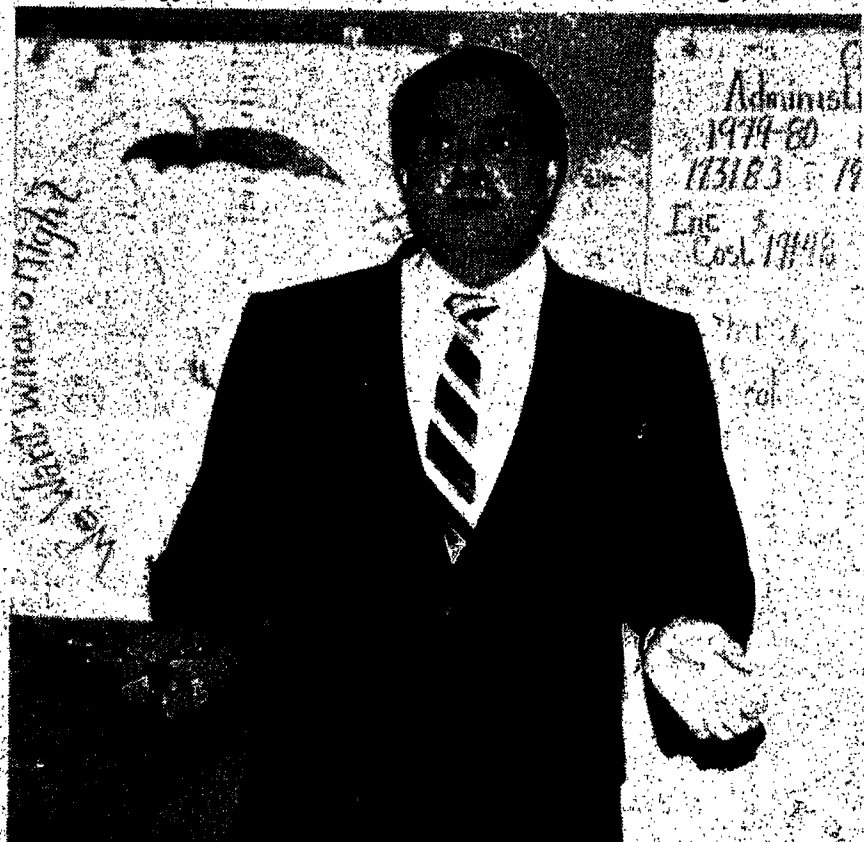

The eight-member committee consists of two teachers from each Bay district school.

The four options include the district paying all teacher hospitalization insurance premiums, a 30 percent pay increase, incentive pay for teachers attending night classes to obtain higher certification ratings, and an increase in local salary supplements.

Those attending also agreed to delay signing employment contracts for the next school year, which McCullough is now presenting individually to each

Decision in Bennett, Murray case delayed

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
Place One Circuit Court Judge Daniel Thomas has not yet rendered a decision regarding recent requests by attorneys representing Mayor Larry Bennett and Don Murray, both of Bay St. Louis, to drop indictments against them.

Thomas said Friday in Gulfport that a heavy work load has not yet allowed him time to review demurrers submitted during the recent Hancock County Circuit Court term by Bennett's attorney Joe Sam Owen and Murray's legal counsel Aaron Adams.

The judge gave no indication when he would issue the decision. He had planned on making the determination by the end of April.

Owen and Adams claim recent Hancock Grand Jury indictments against their clients on fraud and conspiracy charges are faulty.

Bennett is accused of using labor and materials from a street project for work on his home in the summer of 1978, conspiring with Murray to perform the work and representing it as authorized city construction expenditures.

Thomas noted the attorneys' demurrers claim Mississippi's statute of limitations, the Speedy Trial Act, require their clients be prosecuted within two years of committing the alleged crime.

Adams' demurrer also charges the indictment does not describe to whom Murray "made false representation, how he did, whether there was knowledge of falsity, that he signed any instrument or obtained anything... or that the property was entrusted to Murray's care."

SILVER CREEK BLAZE—Members of the Kiln Volunteer Fire Department battle a blaze which destroyed the Archie Cuevas residence in Silver Creek Acres Thursday morning. Mrs. Linda Cuevas was believed not seriously injured when she was burned evacuating grandchildren Genoa Holloway, 3, and David Holloway, 4, from a bedroom where the fire apparently started due to faulty wiring. Firefighters were hampered in their efforts due to a lack of water. KVFD member Joe Haas said no fire hydrant is available in the area since families are not members of the Kiln Fire and Water Protection District. Cuevas said his loss is uninsured. Also losing all belongings in the 11-year-old home are family members Tiny Cuevas, 14; Junior Cuevas, 15; and Glynnis Cuevas, 16. A fund to assist the family has been established at Hancock Bank. For information on clothing needed or financial assistance contact Larry Bradley, pastor of Faith Assembly of God in Kiln, 255-3794 or Terry Cuevas, brother of Archie Cuevas, at 255-9636. Pearlington resident arrested in connection with hit and run

By ELLIS CUEVAS
A Pearlington resident was arrested Saturday afternoon in connection with Thursday night death of an eleven-year-old boy according to Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson.

Peterson said, "An intensive investigation has led to the arrest of Louis Paul Matranga, 21, General Delivery, Pearlington, Miss., who has been charged with leaving the scene of an accident, and hit and run in connection with the death of Alden Phillip Bennett."

"The investigation is continuing, and there is a possibility of an additional charge of manslaughter being filed against Matranga at a later date," Peterson added.

Eleven-year-old Bennett was the apparent victim of a hit and run at approximately 10:15 p.m. Thursday. His body was found 12-feet off Highway 604 about one-half mile from the post office in Pearlington, Peterson stated.

His bicycle was found damaged nearby. Investigators discovered that he had left his home 15-minutes prior to the time he was found.

Peterson said, "We have received tremendous support from the residents of Pearlington in this investigation. We received many leads, and one of them led to the arrest of Matranga."

Peterson is being assisted by Hancock County Investigator Delbert Seay in the investigation.

The child's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bennett Sr. He was a student at Charles B. Murphy Elementary School in Pearlington.

Bennett's services are scheduled at 2 p.m. this afternoon, an obituary is published on Page 2-A.

DUI CHARGED
Gerald L. Necaise, 33, of 750 Pine Tree Street, Slidell, La. was charged with Driving Under the Influence and Failure to Yield Right of Way, following a car accident at the intersection of Hwy. 43 and 603 on Wednesday night, according to Hancock County Sheriff Ronnie Peterson.

Investigating officers David Garcia and Audie Murphy said the Necaise vehicle was traveling West and crossed the intersection to Hwy. 43 when his car struck the right front fender of the other car.

Driving the other car was Karen Ladner, 17, of 525 deMontiluzin Street, Bay St. Louis and passenger Mary Ramond-17, of 604 Spanish Acres Drive, Bay St. Louis.

Hill hearing held behind closed doors

By JUNE M. HEYDT
It was announced Friday afternoon that the hearing for Harlin Hill, held at the Hancock County Courthouse would be closed.

After approximately forty-five minutes of discussion between the hearing officer, Frank Whitman, Yvonne Sills, Hill's attorney and James Galloway, Terrell Randolph's attorney, it was decided that the hearing would be closed.

Randolph, Hancock County School Superintendent said, "I requested a public hearing because I wanted the public to know my reasons for non-renewal of Hill's contract. I wanted the public to be informed of what is happening."

Whitman stated "Unless there is some overriding reason or the possibility of criminal actions I can't see why it should be a closed meeting, I have a hard time closing it."

However, Sills stated, "We submit, you will be acting in place of the school board and it has been the option of the school board in the past to make a personnel hearing closed." She went on to say, "Normally the employee has the option of an open or closed meeting."

"I feel my client would be best protected if the hearing were closed," said Sills.

Galloway stated, "I am not going to insist on an open meeting. Whatever your decision is we will agree however,

Library welcomes two distinguished guests

By JUNE M. HEYDT
Having been invited to visit the Bay Waveland Library on US 90 this week, two distinguished ladies relate their remembrances of the Coast during the early 1900s.

Katrina Overall McDonald, 88, and Elizabeth McDonald Yarn, 88, who collect postcards came to the library after being invited by Joe Pilet of the Friends of the Library to look over some old post cards that have been donated to the library over the years.

Yarn and McDonald were both teachers in the Bay St. Louis schools in 1918.

They met when they both attended Vanderbilt University in Nashville, Tenn. in the early 1900s.

Yarn had brought her friend Katrina home to the Coast with her to visit during a vacation. Katrina met and married Yarn's cousin C.C. McDonald. The newly married McDonalds stayed on the Coast and helped to build it.

Katrina McDonald taught the first 12th grade class at the high school here in the Bay. She was only 18-years-old herself. J.M. Conaley was the principal at that time.

Some of the students McDonald taught are still residents of the area such as Mary Perkins and Ethel Brandao.

McDonald is in her 50th year as president of the parent-teacher association in Mississippi and spent 30-years working with the girl scouts. She is also the mother of four boys.

Yarn was fondly nicknamed Ladybird because of the way she hops around on her legs getting things done, says, "I remember when I was 3-years-old there was a snow storm here that is still the worst on record."

She said, "I also remember when the first train opened up from Jackson to Gulfport. It was an exciting day."

"In 1915 we had a torrential storm. The rains kept coming and we got 2-inches of water in the house."

Both women remember when US. 90 was still a shell road. "It made a lot of dust come into the classrooms where I taught," said McDonald.

Yarn grew up in the old Eaton J. Bowers home that was located on the corner of Uman Avenue and North Beach Blvd. where the Reed Hotel stands now.

Yarn's father was Judge William T. McDonald who at the age of 20 was the youngest member to attend the Constitutional Convention of 1890. The con-

HOMEMAKERS WEEK

May 1-7
To celebrate the Hancock County Extension Homemakers will hold a Cultural Arts Fair at the Bay St. Louis Library. Art and needlework will be on exhibit Wednesday after 2 p.m., Thursday and Friday from 9:30 a.m. - 5 p.m., and Saturday from 9:30 a.m. until 2:30 p.m.

There will be live demonstrations periodically through the four days on quilting, candlewicking, pine needle baskets, yarn flowers, etc. Please drop by to see the exhibit and chat with our homemakers.

MICROWAVE COOKING

Charlotte Lamey, Mississippi Power home economist, will present this introduction to the microwave oven on Tuesday, May 17, 1:30 p.m., in the Agricultural Building Auditorium. Charlotte always does a tremendous job of explaining the mechanics of cooking in the microwave appliance by demonstrating recipes. Everyone will get a chance to sample the finished product.

FLOWER ARRANGING

John Davis, area horticulture specialist, will conduct this program on Friday, May 20, 1:30 p.m., in the Agricultural Building Auditorium, 405 Necaise Avenue, Bay St. Louis. The emphasis will be on the basics of flower arranging using local vegetation and flowers.

A follow-up workshop will be held to allow you to make arrangements under John's supervision on May 27. This is only for those who attend the first session held on May 20. He will take pre-registration then and tell you what supplies to bring to the workshop.

HOME GARDENING

Growing concern over food prices and the trend toward natural foods has spurred the "backyard gardener" in many consumers.

More people had gardens last year and will likely have them again this year. As the interest in home gardening increases, the surplus of produce must be canned or frozen. Many homemakers who are familiar with these techniques may not need additional assistance. However, many are trying their hand at gardening and food preservation for the first time in an effort to cut food cost.

Whatever the reason, if you are planning to grow part of your food supply this year there are several things you should consider.

First, contact our office before you start, for guidelines on gardening, varieties of fruits and vegetables that grow best in our area and that freeze or can best. We can provide information on every phase of gardening from planning, planting, growing, harvesting, to using the product.

Home-grown produce frequently tastes better and is more nutritious than that bought in stores. In addition, gardening is a healthy leisure activity for all ages, providing lots of sunshine, fresh air and not-too-strenuous exercise. Children can also learn much about nature's ways from tending a garden. Fortunately, gardening requires a relatively small monetary investment.

The question is, how much time and energy are you willing to invest? Gardens take considerable effort. Pots of herbs on the windowsills, tomato plants in a tub on the patio, do not constitute gardening, alas. If you have higher aspirations than this, determine the amount of produce you can consume yourself and/or distribute to friends, and limit your planting accordingly.

I have information of all kinds on food preservation. I sure to use only the latest, recommended procedures for canning and freezing. This information is constantly checked and revised as new research becomes available. Extension Food & Nutrition Specialists at Mississippi State University have prepared publications on every phase of food preservation. They are yours for the asking, so get your copy from our office before you're ready to start preserving the fruits of your garden.

Don't fall for short-cut methods that always seem to spread by word of mouth. Specific equipment is necessary for different foods. You should follow directions carefully to avoid wasting your time and money.

Foods like green beans must be processed in a pressure canner or you will run the risk of botulism poisoning. There have been many instances of homemakers having to throw away large quantities of green beans and other low acid vegetables which showed signs of spoilage. These were, in every case known to us, canned by the boiling water bath method - which should never be done.

What advantages do you have in growing part of your food supply?

It may or may not be less expensive, depending on your methods or techniques, the type of food and how you preserve it. You must also consider the amount of time you have to devote to the whole process.

It can add variety to your diet. You can have many favorite vegetables from your garden while they are at their peak of quality. Chances are you will enjoy that whole tomato, for a snack, much more if you picked it in the garden than if you bought it in the store.

It allows you to be creative and gives you pride in serving your own home grown foods suited to your family's tastes. Advantages or reasons for venturing into raising part of your food supply may be varied. Maybe you have a desire to prove to yourself that you can do what your forefathers did and what industry does - and do it just as well.

Or perhaps you have the desire to return just a step or two to the simpler life represented by bacon hanging in the smokehouse, hominy in barrels and sweet-sour fragrance of pickles cooking on the back burner.

Quotables by Cuevas

We were sorry to hear about the fire destroying the Archie Cuevas residence at Silver Creek acres on Thursday.

The family lost everything and Mrs. Cuevas also received some burns in rescuing her granddaughter age three, and grandson age four.

In addition to the two young grandchildren, the family includes three children, sons ages 14, 15, and a daughter 17.

We know the family needs help in many ways and an account has been set-up at Hancock Bank.

Persons interested in helping can also contact Archie's brother Terryl Cuevas at 255-9696.

Thursday has been designated as a World Day of Prayer by President Ronald Reagan.

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce and the Ministerial Alliance will hold a special 'World Day of Prayer' observance starting at 4 p.m. Thursday on the steps of the Hancock County Courthouse.

We are hoping many will attend this special service. As you know, we as Americans today, have many problems because of conditions throughout the world.

The Bay High Tiger Pride and Chorus as well as the 'Good News' quartet from Florence, Alabama are scheduled to appear.

In case of rain the special services will be held at the First Baptist Church Auditorium on Main Street.

We hope to see you there!

Another successful Blood Drawing was held Friday at Bay Senior High.

J.D. (Big John) Rutherford, chairman of the Hancock County Red Cross Blood program, reported 70 units of blood were collected from the students and faculty of Bay High.

We have to commend the student body and administration for their efforts in providing donors for the drawing.

We never know when we, ourselves or someone in our family may need blood.

We also want to offer appreciation to the many volunteers who helped at the drawing Friday at Bay Senior High and also at Hancock North Central last week.

We have noted over many years several persons who are always helping at these blood drawings.

We have noted the rapid growth of the grass along the highway medians because of so much rain in recent weeks.

We know Bay St. Louis has advertised for bids for the up-keep of the highway within its city limits and if the bids are within range and accepted, it will sure be of a benefit to our community.

So many people comment on the terrible image visitors get because of the grass and debris on US-90. It seems people are just too lazy to carry litter bags in their vehicles and properly discard their trash.

We know the State, County, Cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland spend thousands of dollars each year for the pickup of trash.

These expenses could be cut drastically if everyone was not so careless.

We are hoping the public will have a change of attitude one day.

News from the Governor

Dick Molpus, executive director of the Governor's Office of Federal-State Programs, has announced Mississippi will receive $6.9 million in Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) funds through the recently approved Emergency Jobs Funding Bill.

The jobs bill, which was passed by Congress and signed by President Reagan March 24, will provide emergency funds, productive jobs and federal construction projects to assist states in combatting high levels of unemployment. Mississippi's total funding under the jobs bill is estimated to be $129 million, which includes the CDBG allocation.

"The jobs bill funding could contribute substantially toward reducing the state's high unemployment," said Molpus. "The CDBG segment of this will enable Mississippi communities to continue progressing in areas such as economic development, public facilities and housing."

The special funding is in addition to the regular 1983 CDBG funding cycle of $30.3 million. Local governments should, therefore, make separate applications for the jobs bill funds.

The CDBG program provides grants to local governments for community development activities in areas having a population of 50,000 or less. Under the jobs bill, up to 50 percent of the funds may be used for eligible public service activities.

The state has begun to work on the program based on preliminary guidelines and will begin accepting applications as soon as complete details are received from the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Persons desiring additional information about the CDBG portion of the Emergency Jobs Funding Bill should contact Davis at the Department of Planning and Policy, 1304 Sillers Building, Jackson, 39202, 359-3065.

AMERICAN FREE ENTERPRISE

Four years ago a new program was launched to help educate the public about how the American free enterprise system works. The effort was undertaken after studies indicated that among adults there was a lack of understanding about free enterprise — what is fact and what is fiction.

More importantly, there was evidence that this lack of understanding was most evident among school children.

To help rectify this problem, the Mississippi Economic Council established the American Enterprise Center. Supported by MEC members and private donors, the AEC has concentrated its efforts in helping teachers convey the meaning of free enterprise to elementary and high school students.

According to recent tests of students participating in the AEC-sponsored programs, the AEC-assisted students now show a better understanding of free enterprise. The independent evaluation confirms that the American

IN CONGRESS By Cong. Trent Lott

'Peacekeeper' Finds A Home?

The final verdict isn't in yet, but it's beginning to look like America's "Peacekeeper" missile will find a home and constant state of readiness in existing silos.

For a while, it looked as if Peacekeeper, formally known as the MX missile, should have been named "Nomad" because it couldn't seem to find a home anywhere. Four presidents examined literally dozens of potential basing modes before President Reagan decided last week that existing silos were suitable for the Peacekeeper.

Those existing silos now hold the Titan and Minuteman III missiles which are the third leg of America's defensive triad, a system founded on the belief that we must be strong on land, in the sea and in the air.

The Titans and Minuteman missiles, however, are old, unable to meet new Soviet threats, and, badly in need of replacement by a new generation of missile, a weapon whose intent is to deter foreign attack.

I personally think the triad concept has served us well. We are now engaged in trying to modernize the aircraft involved in our protection, some of our submarines are outfitted with missiles and it's important that we strengthen the land-based part of the system.

If our old missiles are to be replaced, it's clear that the MX, which was named Peacekeeper by President Reagan, is the logical replacement choice. And, if we are to have the Peacekeeper, it has to be based in an appropriate way.

Specialists from the Department of Defense and other agencies have worked long and hard to find a basing mode which was acceptable to the president and to the Congress. Two of the most mentioned possibilities were the "racetrack" concept proposed by former President Carter and the "dense pack" concept proposed earlier by President Reagan.

Neither found much support in the Congress and the strategists went back to their conference tables.

It seems now that placement of the Peacekeeper in existing Titan and Minuteman silos is the most logical solution. It was suggested by a bipartisan commission appointed to come up with a basing mode.

I believe the compromise that has been suggested is the solution we should go with for now. This would put in place the Peacekeeper as a deterrent, hopefully leading to more serious discussions with the Soviet Union on genuine arms control.

Mississippi Economic Council

Enterprise Center effort is having a positive effect on teachers and students, not only helping them better understand free enterprise, but also helping them prepare for adult life and leadership roles of tomorrow.

Having completed its fourth year, the AEC is launching a new program — this one for adults. The new employee training program will be implemented this year in hopes of creating a better understanding about free enterprise among adults.

This way, both young and old will be in better positions to "pass on" to future generations the heritage of American Free Enterprise.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

By Shawn Murphy

MINISTER, BAY ST. LOUIS CHURCH OF CHRIST

At a Friday night Bible study recently, one of the ladies in the group from another congregation shared a piece of paper with me that I would like to share with you.

It is on the topic of "Heart Searching for Prayer and Personal Revival." There was no indication as to authorship.

But I hope that you realize from it the necessity of confession of sin in order for revival to take place in one's life. May God bless us all with a great spiritual revival as we confess our sins one to another and to our Father in Heaven.

In reading these questions, as you are convicted of sin, confess it at once to God. Be willing to make it right... then you can claim cleansing and forgiveness. "If we confess our sins, He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness." (1 John 1:9)

1. Matt. 6:12-15: Is there anyone against whom you hold a grudge? Anyone you haven't forgiven? Anyone you hate? Anyone you do not love? Are there any misunderstandings you are not willing to forget? Is there any person you are harboring bitterness, resentment, or jealousy? Anyone you dislike to hear praised or well spoken of? Do you allow anything to justify a wrong attitude toward another?

2. Matthew 6:33: Is there anything in which you have failed to put God first? Have your decisions been made after your own wisdom and desires rather than by seeking and following God's will? Do any of the following in any way interfere with your surrender and service to God: ambition, pleasures, loved ones, friendships, desire for recognition, money, your own plans?

3. Mark 1:15: Have you failed to seek the lost for Christ? Have you failed to witness consistently with your mouth for the Lord Jesus Christ? Has your life not shown the Lord Jesus to the lost?

4. John 13:35: Are you secretly pleased over the misfortunes of another? Are you secretly annoyed over the accomplishments of another? Are you guilty of any contention of strife? Do you quarrel, argue, or engage in heated discussions? Are you a partner in any divisions, or party spirit? Are there people whom you deliberately slight?

5. Mal. 3:10: Have you robbed God by withholding His due of tithes, talents and money? Have you given less than a tenth of your income for God's work? Have you failed to support mission work either in prayer or in offerings?

6. 1 Cor. 4:2: Are you undependable so that you cannot be trusted with responsibilities in the Lord's work? Are you allowing your emotions to be stirred for things of the Lord but doing nothing about it?

7. 1 Cor. 6:12-20: Are you in any way careless with your body? Do you fail to care for it as the temple of the Holy Spirit? Are you guilty of intemperance in eating or drinking? Do you have any habits which are defiling to the body?

8. 1 Cor. 10:31: Do you take the slightest credit for anything good about you rather than give all the glory to God? Do you talk of what you have done rather than what Christ has done? Are your statements mostly about "I"? Are your feelings easily hurt? Have you made a pretense of being something that you are not?

9. Eph. 3:20: Are you self-conscious rather than Christ conscious? Do you allow feelings of inferiority keep you from attempting things you should in serving the Lord?

This is only part one in a series of three articles on "Personal Revival." It is my hope that each person reading this article will cut this column out and the subsequent ones and meditate upon the ideas presented.

I am convinced that if followed with prayer and meditation that this series can and will change your life in a remarkable way! It is already blessing me!

If you are seeking for revival in your life, then you'll be blessed by the Abundant Life Crusade for Christ. Beginning today at 10 a.m. David Short will be speaking on the "Abundant Love." And at 11 a.m. the "Good News Quartet" will be singing! Don't miss a minute... it could change your life!

Timesharing of various types of vacation property is an increasingly popular way to take vacations.

While most timeshare programs are highly regarded, some problems do occur. You should consider the risks as well as the benefits before signing a contract or check.

Deeded and non-deeded are the two main types of timesharing plans. With the deeded type, you buy an ownership interest. In the non-deeded plan, you buy a lease, license, or club membership that allows you to use the property for a specific amount of time each year for a stated number of years. With both types, the price is proportional to the length of time per year you want to buy.

Consider the following points before you buy and type of timeshare:

— Will you be able to use a timeshare facility regularly? If you are evaluating a plan with units in several locations, will there be enough units at the site you prefer so you can vacation there as often as you would like?

— If you are buying the facility as an investment, remember that any resale of property can be complicated and expensive.

— The total cost of your timeshare includes finance charges and annual fees. Investigate whether there are limits on the annual maintenance fees. Compare estimates of your timeshare cost on a weekly basis with the rates of similar accommodations you could rent in the same location.

— If you are not sure what the contract means, have an attorney familiar with timesharing review all documents.

— Be sure that everything the salesperson promised orally is written in the contract.

— If you are buying an unfinished facility, get a written commitment that it will be finished as promised.

— Investigate default protection in case the builder or management company has financial problems. Check your contract for two clauses concerning "non-disturbance" and "non-performance."

The non-disturbance provision will protect you from claims by a third party against the developer or management firm which could otherwise prevent you from using your unit.

The non-performance protection clause will allow you to keep all your rights, even if a third party, like a bank, needs to buy out your contract. An attorney can provide you with more information about the provisions.

Leo Seal is MSU's Alumnus of The Year

LEO SEAL

Gulf Coast banking executive Leo W. Seal of Bay St. Louis has been named 1983 Alumnus of the Year by Mississippi State University.

Seal, a 1949 graduate, is president and chief executive officer of the Hancock Bank of Gulfport, one of the largest such financial institutions in the state.

The MSU award, presented annually at the spring alumni meeting on campus, recognizes graduates "who have distinguished themselves by making some significant contribution to human or institutional progress."

Selection of a recipient is made by an anonymous committee from a pool of nominations suggested by chartered chapters and by representatives of the University teaching staff.

Seal has received numerous civic awards including Gulfport's Most Outstanding Young Man, one of Mississippi's three Most Outstanding Young Men, the American Legion Outstanding Service Award, the Hancock County Outstanding Citizen Award, and the Distinguished American Award.

He has served as president of the Mississippi Economic Council, Mississippi Bankers Association, Gulfport Area Chamber of Commerce, and the Gulfport Rotary Club.

Treasurer of his senior class at MSU and a three-year tackle on the Bulldog football team, Seal has served on a long list of university committees and groups since graduation.

Among them are the Development Foundation Board of Directors, University Athletic Committee, Bulldog Club Board of Directors, "M" Club Alumni Association, Stadium Expansion Committee, and the Alumni association.

In 1982, he donated the stadium seating for MSU's track complex.

Seal is not only a four-time Patron of Excellence, but is responsible for nearly two dozen other people and firms pledging support to the university through its development foundation.

Witnesses who received subpoenas to appear at the hearing were, Don Hillman, Rhea Scapito, Dorothy Ladner, Marie Odom, Mira Peterson, Johnny Banks, Monvel Cuevas, George Ladner, and James Pair.

The hearing was held to examine Randolph's decision not to renew the contract of Harlin Hill, coordinator of state and federal programs.

Whitman said he will deliver his recommendation to the school board within 30 days.

In paying all hospitalization premiums. Based on an average monthly per teacher cost of some $62 for insurance, the total cost is $70,954 and minus the state's contribution would result in the district paying $54,329 annually, he listed.

However, Barrett revealed in Mississippi traditionally when school districts assume payment of all insurance premiums the cost drops.

He also revealed the school district in fiscal year 1980-81 had $326,132 in bank savings accounts and in 1981-82 had $208,113.

A teacher suggested instructors receive additional pay based on a responsibility factor, a percentage figure which McCullough utilizes to calculate administrator pay raises.

Other teachers shouted, "Who's got the most responsibility—we do!"

"We should get paid for mental duress! No, combat pay! A stress factor! We want an increase from the local district!" rose from the crowd.

Barrett stated, "This school system has always been able to come up with money if they (the officials) want to."

teacher, until the salary issue is resolved.

Reeves informed the teachers that state law allows them to delay signing contracts up to 10 days after presentation.

Several teachers reported they felt pressured by McCullough's now three-year practice of going to each school and summoning each instructor before him privately to sign an employment contract.

"I'm not going to sit there—it's ridiculous to sign a contract in front of him!" an enraged teacher stated.

Barrett advised the teachers to always carefully check contracts for typographical errors because even if the pay amount is low, signing the contract legally binds both parties to the amount listed.

Another teacher said she would ask McCullough, when appearing before him to sign a contract, why they did not receive a local pay increase.

An instructor also cited that classroom supply budget cuts have resulted in teachers paying for more student instructional aids with their own money without reimbursement.

"It's pretty degrading when a bunch of people like us go through college and end up making $13,000 less than the principals," a teacher stated.

"The poor economy is hitting us too!" another teacher said.

And yet another teacher, regarding the incentive proposal, stated, "And we're steadily going back to college. There ought to be money for people to go to college."

The instructor added it takes several years work to recover the cost of graduate courses.

Barrett reported the Bay district could levy three additional mills to fund a teacher pay raise, but it could not be implemented for at least one year, or pay for hospitalization insurance.

The MAE director proposed local teacher supplements and their cost (including social security and retirement payments) which include:

—$500 per teacher which would cost $54,150 annually;

—$750 each totalling $81,225;

—$1,000 each amounting to $108,300.

Lakeshore residents complain to Hancock County School Board

By JUNE M. HEYDT

Temper flared as parents addressed the Hancock County School Board meeting held Wednesday night.

Mrs. Bobbie Clark, of the Gulfview school district, told the board, "Our playground equipment is horrendous. The swings and slides are broken and they are dangerous to our children."

"There is a pipe that sticks out of the ground where a piece of equipment had been removed, a child playing around it could be badly injured," said Clark.

"There are huge holes all over the playground and now the holes are filled with water because of the rains. We asked the county to send someone out to the school to fill the holes, it was promised, but never arrived," Clark added.

And continued, "There is no shade on the playground for the children and nowhere for them to sit down. The only shade they can find is under the slide, and that is broken also."

She then asked the board, "Are you still going to spend $48,000 on rebuilding the principal's house in the North Central School District? Why can't they pay their own way like everyone else does?" she said. And went on to say, "Our children need classrooms, some of them are going to school in trailers and I feel our children are more important."

"The school board members will investigate the problems at the Gulfview School," said Terrell Randolph, Hancock County Superintendent.

In other business, a recommendation, to employ Edward Campbell Hinnant as Math teacher and 7th and 8th grade boys' basketball coach for 1983-84 school year was approved. In discussion,

Tommy Shaw, member of the board asked, "Does he know anything about basketball and what are his coaching abilities?" Randolph replied saying, "Yes, he knows about coaching, but I think it would be hard to pass up a really good math teacher."

A request by James Pair, assistant superintendent to attend an informational program on Job Training Partnership Act on Thursday, May 5 at Airport Holiday Inn in Gulfport was approved.

It was also approved by the board for Katherine Norton and Mike Murphy to attend a Workshop on Language-Learning Disabilities in Gulfport on May 6.

Philip Terrell was approved as Adult Education Supervisor for 1983-84 school year.

Barbara Hughes will be employed as Special Education teacher for Hancock North Central for 1983-84 school year as approved by the board.

Elaine Lee's resignation as bus driver for Hancock North Central was accepted by the board. It will become effective May 20.

The board also approved the request for the Booster Club to use the cafeteria at Hancock North Central for a basketball banquet to be held May 5 at 6:30 p.m.

Matters to be on the agenda of the next school board meeting are, the bookkeepers supplement, the paying of the telephone bills for Clermont Harbor School and Hancock North Central Gymnasium for current month, also electric bill for the principals trailer.

The Gulf Coast Waste Disposal Contract for trash bins will be discussed at the next meeting scheduled Monday.

POINT OF LAW

Mississippi State Bar

(Prepared by the Mississippi State Bar. Some legal rights may vary from locality to locality. Always consult an attorney when in doubt about your rights.)

Q: Must "domestic servants" be paid Federal minimum wage and overtime pay?

A: In 1974 the Fair Labor Standards Act was amended to extend minimum wage and overtime protection to "persons in domestic service in households."

The Department of Labor's Wage and Hour Division includes the following jobs, among others, in this category: cooks; waiters; butlers; valets; maids; housekeepers; governesses; nurses; caretakers; handymen; gardeners; chauffeurs; and, babysitters employed on other than a casual basis.

All such persons qualify for coverage as long as they either: (a) earn at least $50 or more in cash during a calendar year; or, (b) are employed by one or more employers for more than eight hours in a row in any work week.

They are entitled to be paid not less than the minimum hourly wage set by law, currently $3.35.

In addition, for all work over 40 hours done for the same employer in any one work week, they are entitled to be paid one and one-half times their regular rate of pay.

"Live-in" servants are not required to be paid overtime but must still be paid the minimum wage rate for all hours worked. Employers may satisfy their record keeping obligations in this regard by entering a written agreement with the employee which specifies all periods of free time such as sleeping and meals.

The law also exempts two groups from both minimum wage and overtime protection. These are: (a) persons "employed on a casual basis... to provide baby-sitting services"; and, (b) persons employed "to provide companionship services for individuals who (because of age or infirmity) are unable to care for themselves."

If either the "baby-sitters" or "companions" spend more than 20 percent of their time doing general household work, these exemptions do not apply.

Finally, some persons, especially those who provide lawn mowing services, who set their own hours, provide their own equipment and may even hire assistants, will be considered independent contractors.

Such persons would not be covered by the Fair Labor Standards Act, which governs men employed primarily by one household probably would be.

Anyone wishing to learn more about this subject may do so by reading the Wage and Hour Division's regulations in the Code of Federal Regulations, Title 29, Part 552, available at larger public or university libraries, or by contacting the Wage-Hour Area Office, Billy R. Jones Federal Building, Suite 1414, 100 West Capitol Street, Jackson, MS 39201, tel. 601-960-4347.

DIXIELAND JAZZ

Banu Gibson turns on pure energy when she and her New Orleans Hot Jazz Orchestra perform for Dixieland Jazz From New Orleans Monday, May 9, at 9 p.m., on WYES-TV/12.

Banu and the Hot Jazz fill the club with sound as they perform at Duke's Place, high above the Big Easy's French Quarter. Moving quickly with the rhythm of the music, Banu soon has the club's guests swinging with her.

Banu Gibson and the New Orleans Hot Jazz Orchestra are well-known in the city's entertainment circles.

Banu has been dancing since she was three, but fell in love with jazz when she worked opposite Dixieland trumpet player Phil Napoleon and his Emperors in Miami.

She played "everything," from Johnny Carson's show to a birthday party for the Brooklyn Bridge—on the bridge!

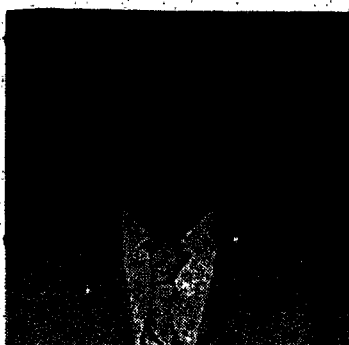

Banu was drawn to New Orleans, singing with several jazz bands before settling with her New Orleans Hot Jazz Orchestra—five men, including Steve Pistrius on piano, Steve Yocum on trombone, Charlie Fardella on trumpet, Ed Firth on tuba, and Bob Walters on drums.

Banu and the Hot Jazz entertain with "After You're Gone," "Radio," "Hard-Hearted Hannah," "Charleston," "This Joint Is Jumpin'," and "Cabaret" for the program. Sharing the spotlight for the evening, special guests also perform: Alvin Alcorn does "Lady Be Good," Connie Jones and the Crescent City Jazz Band do "Mandy Make Up Your Mind," the Original Camellia Jazz Band plays "Back O' Town Blues," and James Davis entertains with "Struttin' With Some Barbeque."

Dixieland Jazz From New Orleans is a production of WYES-TV, the public television station in New Orleans, and Tele-Record Productions, Ltd., of New Orleans. John Beyer, WYES, Producer/Director; Terri Hinrichs, WYES, Associate Producer. The program is distributed internationally by Deviller-Donegan Enterprises in Washington, D.C.

I attended law enforcement schools in the fields of Fingerprinting, Search and Seizure, Narcotics, Legal Interrogation of Prisoners and handling rapes, murders and armed robberies. Each one of my deputies had training in Law Enforcement. This is very important for good and successful Law Enforcement.

The office of the Sheriff is one in which experience and training is an absolute must and this experience should be used for the benefit of the public if good law enforcement is to function.

As citizens you should demand that your Sheriff's Office be run in a good business like manner for the protection of your life and property and to insure the safety and future of our greatest assets, our children. You are entitled to ask and demand this for them.

I am sorry I was unable to run for Sheriff in 1979, but in 1977, I had 4 discs removed from my neck due to an injury I received from an attack by a prisoner.

Since June of 1982, these discs have fused and I do not have any pain or after effects of the operation. My health condition is better now than it has been for the last 8 or 10 years.

I am appealing to each and every voter of Hancock County for their support. I will attempt to see each and every one of you personally. If I fail to see you please accept this as my request for your vote and support so that I may serve again as your Sheriff.

Four Good terms deserves another.

SINCERELY,

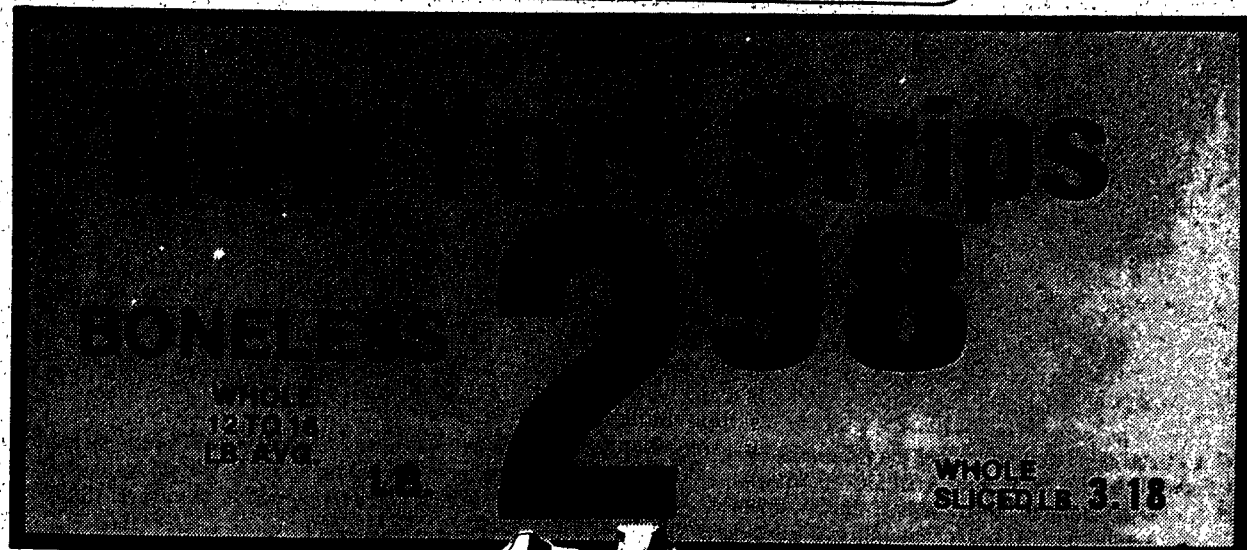

SYLVAN J. LADNER, JR.

American Regional Cooking Today: Golden Apple Bread Pudding

American regional cooking, with its long and flavorful tradition, is enjoying the heights of popularity across the nation today. This hearty, inviting Golden Apple Bread Pudding comes to us from the annals of our colonial ancestors. The naturally sweet flavor of orchard-fresh Golden Delicious apples, raisins and fragrant spices, added to this old-fashioned dessert, turns a good thing into a really memorable dish. Whether served warm from the oven or made ahead and cooled, this is sure to become a favorite with all ages.

All-purpose Golden Delicious apples from Washington State are prized for cooking and baking, as well as for enjoyment in salads and out-of-hand snacks. They retain their shape better than other apple varieties during cooking, and their snowy flesh resists darkening when cut.

Golden Apple Bread Pudding

8 slices bread	1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon
3 to 4 Golden Delicious apples	1/4 teaspoon each salt and ground nutmeg
1/2 cup golden raisins	1/4 cup packed brown sugar
1-1/3 cups milk	Dairy sour cream (optional)
1/4 cup butter or margarine
5 eggs, beaten
1/2 cup sugar

Toast bread lightly and cut diagonally into fourths. Arrange a single layer of bread in bottom of lightly buttered 11-3/4 x 7-1/2 x 2-inch baking dish. Core and slice 1 apple. Core and dice remaining apples to equal 4 cups. Spread diced apples evenly on bread. Sprinkle raisins over apples. Arrange remaining bread in two lengthwise rows on diced apples. Place apple slices between rows of bread. Heat milk and butter only until butter melts. Combine eggs, sugar and seasonings; gradually add milk mixture, stirring constantly. Pour over bread and apples. Sprinkle with brown sugar. Bake, uncovered, at 350°F. 40 to 45 minutes or until set. Serve warm or cold. Top with sour cream. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

REAL VIEWS ON REAL ESTATE

MAKE IMPROVEMENTS PAY

QUESTION: I am always warned that the improvements we have made to our house will not be recovered if we decide to sell. I have been told about the improvements that are never recoverable and I wonder if there is one simple rule of thumb you can use in deciding upon what improvements to make. D. L., Drew ANSWER: Dear D. L.: As a general rule, the cost of a home improvement will be recovered on resale if, as a result of the improvement, the property is brought up to standards in the neighborhood.

Three and four-bedroom homes are located next to other homes of approximately the same size.

Thus, if the improvement you are making to your home already exists in the surrounding homes, the improvement you are making to your home already exists in the surrounding homes, the improvement should add to the value of your property.

However, if the improvement causes your property to become superior to other homes in the neighborhood, you may not recoup its cost, plus inflation, on resale.

Keep in mind that cost is not the same as value. Consider the situation where houses are located in an undesirable part of the city because of traffic patterns or lack of public services.

In this instance the value of these homes or the value added as a result of an improvement will possibly be much less than the cost of constructing the same house or making the improvement on another lot in a more desirable location.

Sometimes a low-cost improvement can make a home much more marketable. For example, a few hundred dollars spent on painting and cleaning a home prior to sale will add more to the home's value than the cost incurred.

Likewise, energy efficiency improvements such as insulation and storm windows may increase the value more than the cost of such improvements.

In other situations, however, an expensive improvement which is considered desirable by a homeowner will have little or no value in the eyes of prospective purchasers.

When planning a capital improvement, consider how long you intend to own the home and how the improvement will be viewed in the resale market. Make the improvement only if you expect to recover the cost through a combination of enjoyment or resale price.

For answers to questions, write Dr. Dennis Tosh, P. O. Box 295, University, MS 38677.

School board hears proposal for building new fire station

By JUNE M. HEYDT

Horace Strong, president and fire chief of White Cypress Volunteer Fire and Rescue Service, addressed the Hancock County School Board with a proposal for acquisition of property on the North Central School grounds for the purpose of building a fire station.

The station will service the school and the northern county properties. Strong also stated, in a letter to the board, that the White Cypress Volunteer Fire Service is chartered by the state to operate a fire and emergency medical ambulance service.

The building would provide a live-in apartment for full time crews who will man vehicles, an emergency room, radio communications and provide security for the property.

In order to serve the students it was suggested that the present first-aid and nurse program at the school could be operated as a joint venture serving the students during class and extra curricular activities. An ambulance would be on hand operated by EMT's (Paramedics) and the school doctor and nurse.

The ambulance could be stationed at the football field with radio equipment during all games.

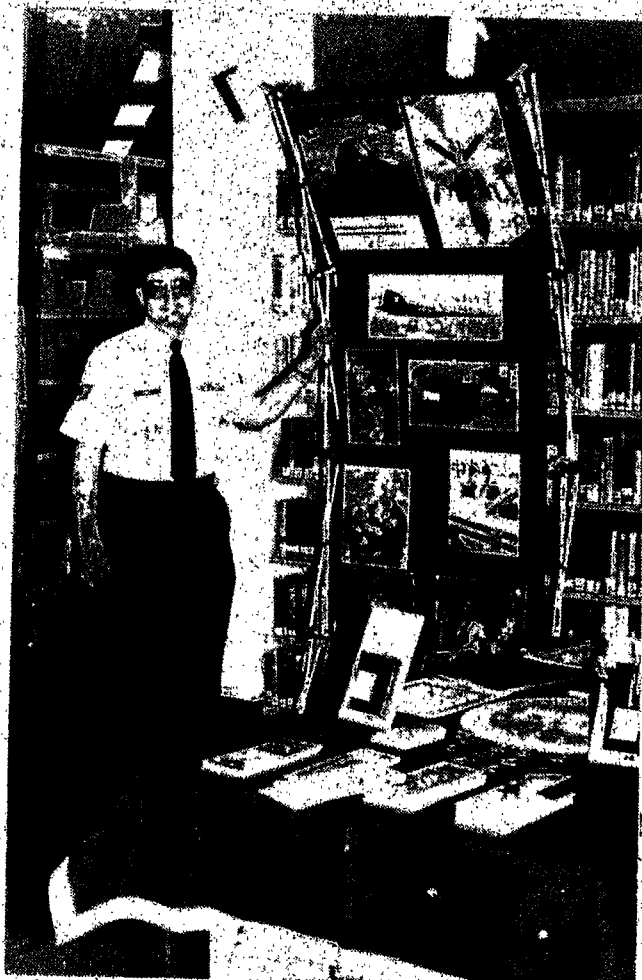

A full-time guard would be on the grounds for security from vandalism. The grounds would be patrolled at night.

The service would also offer training in firefighting skills and community leadership to volunteers.

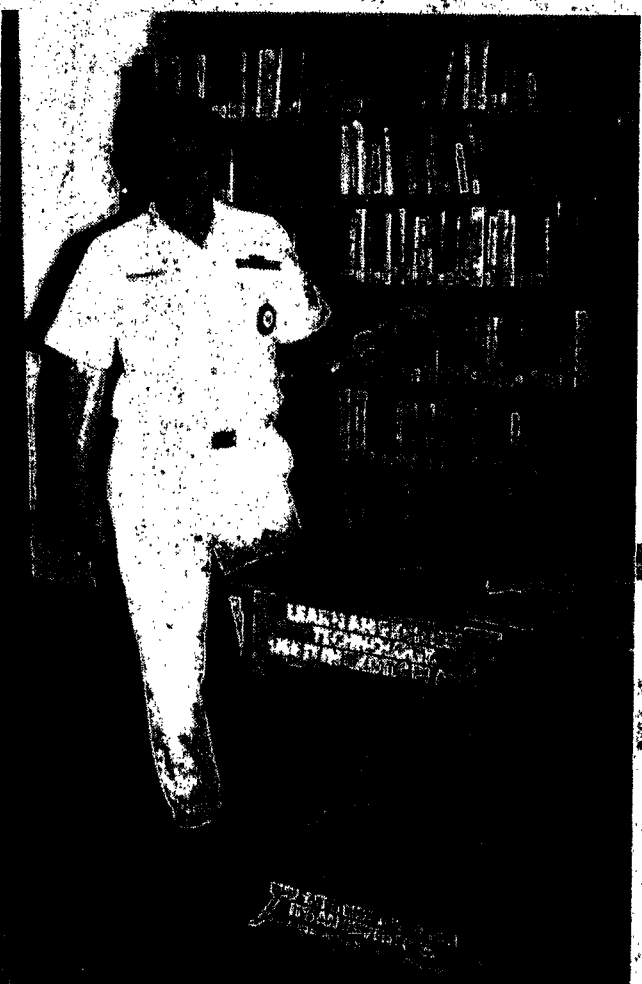

It was suggested at the meeting that Strong wait for a vote on the proposal until the full school board was present.

Strong said, "This is not an overnight project, I have waited this long I don't mind waiting a little longer until the full board is present."

The board will vote on the proposal at their next meeting on Monday night.

Transistor radio may be helpful at Keesler Open House Saturday

Visitors to Saturday's Open House at Keesler AFB in Biloxi are encouraged to bring transistor radios as WBND Radio of Biloxi, on 1490 AM, will broadcast the entire event from the base, patched directly into the Thunderbird public address system.

While the Thunderbird team has speakers to project the narration describing their show, large crowds may result in some viewers being too far from the speakers to hear the narration, and a tuned AM transistor radio will insure that each person can hear what is being announced.

At City Park, Mr. Chris Spol led the group through the herb garden, the experimental garden for plants not common to this area, and the greenhouse with its wonderful display of orchids.

The rose garden was in the beginning stages of bloom.

Hostesses for the noon picnic were: Mrs. Raymond Russell, Mrs. George Baud, Mrs. Burnett, Mrs. Rene deMontluzin, Mrs. John Holmes, Mrs. Russell, Lanham, Mrs. L.W. Nybo, Mrs. W.J. Oss, Mrs. J.R. Shadoin, and Mrs. Thomas Thompson.

Dr. Frances Mayfield's request to be reinstated as an active member was approved by the Board of Directors.

Thanks were extended to Mrs. Bobbette Figuero for a successful Pilgrimage, and to Mrs. Lee Peterson for a beautiful Flower Show.

Mrs. Alice Holmes, a nationally accredited Flower Show Judge, explained the five course Flower Show School to be held on the Gulf Coast over a period of months, probably starting in October.

THE MORMONS

Waveland Ward

Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints

By PATTY BALDREE
Ward Information Director

Martin J. Homer III and Thomas Forrest have been called to serve as first and second counselors, respectively, to Bishop R. Daniel Sones in the Waveland Ward of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints.

John S. Scott, president of the Gulpport Stake of the church, made this announcement during a recent sacrament meeting of the Waveland Ward.

Scott also called for the sustaining vote of the congregation in this matter. The vote was unanimous.

At this same time Vernon L. Ladner and Martin J. Homer III were released from their previous positions with a vote of thanks for the fine service rendered by them in those callings.

A bishop's counselor is an aid to the bishop. He renders the bishop such assistance as the bishop desires or assigns.

Bishop Sones, a native and present resident of the Bayou LaCrosse community, is the son of Earl and Lillian Ladner Sones; also, of Bayou LaCrosse.

He married Frances Elaine Hollingsworth of Columbia, Miss. in the church's Salt Lake Temple.

They are the parents of six children.

Sones graduated from Bay High School in 1965 and received a BS degree in biology from the University of Southern Mississippi in 1972.

He temporarily interrupted his education (1967-69) to serve a mission for the church in the Brazil South Mission in South America.

Prior to his calling as bishop of the Waveland Ward, Sones has served in numerous positions in various areas of Mississippi.

At age 15 he served as young men's secretary in the Bayou LaCrosse Branch.

Later he served the Hattiesburg Stake as athletic director and then as stake clerk.

He has been a counselor to bishops in Sarah and in Columbia, and as counselor to branch presidents in Senatobia and in Waveland.

He also served as branch president in Waveland prior to the formation of the Waveland Ward.

Martin J. Homer III is a native of Metairie, La., and now resides with his family near Kiln.

He married Victoria Barrios, also of Metairie, in the Salt Lake Temple. They are the parents of two children.

Homer is the son of Martin J. Homer Jr., and Bertha Mae Ladner Homer.

He attended Metairie Junior High School and graduated from Ridgewood Preparatory School in Metairie.

He now works with all State Auto Supply in Slidell.

Prior to this new calling in the Waveland Ward Bishopric, Homer has served as a clerk in the Metairie Ward; as a Sunday school youth teacher and then as young men's president in the West Bank Ward of New Orleans.

After moving to the Kiln area, he was called to serve as second counselor in the Waveland Branch presidency and then as second counselor in the Waveland Ward bishopric.

Thomas Forrest was born in Pocatello, Idaho, and now resides with his family in the Bayou LaCrosse Community.

He married Carol Elaine Sones of Bayou LaCrosse in the Salt Lake Temple. They are the parents of six children.

Forrest is the son of Frank Charles Forrest and Merle F.

Forrest.

He graduated from Pocatello High School in 1959, and attended Idaho State University, majoring in accounting.

He served part of his term with the U.S. Air Force at Keesler Air Force Base in Biloxi.

He is now employed in construction work and also works part-time for the U.S. Postal Service.

Before moving to this area, Forrest served the church in Idaho as second counselor in three bishoprics, as a counselor in his ward's young men's organization, as an alternate member of his stake's high council, and then as a member of the high council.

In the Waveland Ward, he has served as president of the young men's organization and as high priest group leader.

He was ordained to the office of high priest in the Melchizedek Priesthood by Elder Boyd K. Packer who is now a member of the Council of the Twelve Apostles, a governing body of the Church.

Dr. James Lea's new book "Political Consciousness and American Democracy" has been selected for a book exhibition on Democracy in the United States which will tour the world.

The U.S. International Communication Agency selected the University of Southern Mississippi political science professor's book for the exhibit that will be exhibited in 16 countries in Europe, Latin America, Asia and Africa in 1983 and 1984.

Lea's book examines American political thought, socialization and the modes by which Americans form their concepts of democracy. He also shows how the family, the school, the work place, the media, the language and subgroups contribute to the shaping of that variety of political consciousness peculiar to Americans.

"Political Consciousness and American Democracy" clarifies how we can avoid perilous responses to current problems if the democratic consciousness of the U.S. is reshaped according to a truly Jeffersonian framework.

The Sea Coast Echo Book Review

A reviewer in "Choice," a scholarly periodical, said of Lea's book, "This is a rarity, an original contribution to American political thought."

"Political Consciousness... stands alone in not only analyzing American politics but also relating our politics to the kind of people we have become," said Donald Lutz, of the University of Houston. Nine universities, including Louisiana State University, University of Kentucky and the University of Houston, have adopted the book.

The University Press of Mississippi which published the book is planning a second printing.

Lea is recently editing "Contemporary Southern Politics," which has a forward by Walker Percy and essays, by 18 scholars from across the south. LSU Press is considering this manuscript for publication next year.

Lea received his MA and PhD from Louisiana State University and his BA from Southeastern Louisiana. Before coming to USM he taught at Livingston University in Alabama.

In 1977 he served as a lecture tour envoy for the U.S. Information Agency on visits to Italy, Cyprus and Greece where he spoke on the Carter Human Rights Policy.

Today's second collection is for the support of Xavier University in New Orleans, the only predominantly Black Catholic University in America.

Religious instructions will be given for students attending public school, kindergarten through 8th grade, after the 9 a.m. Mass today.

The Confirmation and Pre-Confirmation classes will also meet at this time. The 11th and 12th grade will meet on Monday at 5:30 p.m.

Test Your Eyes At Home

Don't Take Vision For Granted

A do-it-yourself Home Eye Test for Adults that will enable people to determine if they are seeing as well as they should has just been announced by the nation's oldest voluntary health agency engaged in sight conservation: the National Society to Prevent Blindness (NSPB), which is marking its 75th anniversary this year.

NSPB estimates that there are more than ten million Americans over 25 years old who have lost some vision. Society spokesmen urge everyone to "stop taking their eyes for granted and have them checked periodically to prevent loss of sight."

The Home Eye Test for Adults provides three individual tests—for distance vision; for near vision and for macular degeneration, which affects the ability to read and see fine details in sharp focus.

The easy-to-follow, illustrated kit may be ordered from the National Society to Prevent Blindness, 79 Madison Avenue, New York, NY 10017. The fee of one dollar in cash, check or money order covers postage and handling.

Are convenience foods convenient?

By ANN O. RUSHING
Extension Marketing
Specialist

Mississippi Cooperative
Extension Service

Just what is a convenience food? Actually there are many that you may take for granted—such as bread and bakery products, canned soups and puddings.

Generally a convenience food has been processed so that less at-home preparation is necessary. These foods can be broadly categorized as frozen, canned, dried, dehydrated or freeze-dried and packaged mixes.

Complete breakfasts or dinners, main entrees and foods in a pouch are a few popular convenience foods available today. Some package containers are now designed for use in microwave ovens and others can be used as serving dishes.

Canned dinners often include such foods as chili, spaghetti, ravioli and chop suey. Specially prepared canned soups are sometimes included with other ingredients in packaged skillet dinners and casserole dishes.

Dried and dehydrated foods are made from raw or precooked foods by removing a large percentage of moisture. Sliced, diced, granulated, powdered, flaked and whole dry foods are available in moisture-proof packages.

Potato flakes, nonfat dried milk and instant coffee are a few examples of dried foods.

Freeze-drying is a unique process that removes moisture from frozen foods without changing their shape, color or taste. With the water removed, the food can be stored for long periods of time without refrigeration.

Freeze-dried vegetables and meats are used in soups and packaged instant meals. Coffee and some spices also are available in freeze-dried form.

Many other freeze-dried products are used by institutions and by campers.

Packaged mixes for preparation of beverages, breads, cakes, pastries and salad dressings consist of weighed or measured ingredients based on specific recipes.

When you select packaged mixes or other convenience foods, consider the following questions:

What is the cost in comparison to preparing foods from scratch? In most cases, the convenience foods will probably cost more. There are exceptions, however. Using a buttermilk pancake mix, for example, is cheaper than making them from scratch because of the price of fresh buttermilk.

What additional ingredients must be added? Cake mixes, for example, require one or two eggs, or a skillet dinner may call for the addition of ground meat. Remember to include the cost of additional ingredients in the total price.

How much must you buy to feed your household? If you are feeding one or two, convenience foods may occasionally be affordable. For feeding large groups, however, foods prepared from scratch are less expensive.

How much additional preparation is required? Relate this to the price charged.

Do flavor and appearance compare with the foods that you prepare?

Will the time and energy saved be worth the price? Canned, fresh or precooked foods are commercially sterilized by heat in air-tight metal cans or glass jars. Spoilage is prevented as long as the container remains tightly sealed. Canned foods are ready to serve, convenient and always available.

When buying canned foods, consider the following guidelines: Select containers that are clean and free from leaks, rust, dents, swelling or bulging ends. Never taste food from bulging or leaking containers. Return them unopened to the store for a refund.

Select the style and quality best suited to your use. For example, whole or sliced mushrooms will cost more than stems and pieces.

Learn to recognize different can sizes and the number of servings in each. Larger sizes are generally more economical.

Look for special promotions that offer multiples of the same product at special prices. Be sure that there is a real savings, that you can use the food and have the storage space available.

At the supermarket, prepared frozen foods include vegetables, fruits, main entrees, soups, bakery goods, breakfast and dessert items—and a variety of specialty items, including international foods. These are packaged in different ways such as single servings, main dish items or complete meals.

As you shop for frozen foods, follow these guidelines:

Look for frozen food cases which are clean and orderly. Packages should be unopened and in good condition.

Be sure frozen packages are solid. Some frost or ice crystals inside or outside the package are normal, but excessive deposits of ice may indicate the product has been partially thawed and refrozen. If this is the case, both quality and taste may have deteriorated.

Select frozen food items at the end of your shopping trip so they have less time to thaw before reaching home.

But only the quantity that you can use and store properly.

At home, freeze frozen items at once and keep them frozen until they are to be cooked or served.

JAZZ BALLET CATS—Selections from the smash Broadway and London musical 'Cats' will be presented by the Gulf Coast Dance Theater Saturday and Sunday at the Saenger Theater in Biloxi as part of the group's spring program 'Potpourri'. Featured dancers will include, from left, Lori Buckley of Wiggins, Amy Dilworth of Long Beach, Kelly Briscoe of Gulfport and Lisa Montgomery of Diamondhead. Performances are scheduled at 8 p.m. Saturday and 3 p.m. Sunday. The 'Cats' selections are choreographed by Sharon Montgomery of Diamondhead. (Photo by Jimmy Lolacano)

Gulf Coast Dance Theater slates jazz ballet 'Potpourri'

Artistic Director Cheryl Black of the Gulf Coast Dance Theatre reports the company's spring performance, "Potpourri," is slated for an evening performance Saturday, May 7 at 8 p.m. and a matinee performance on Sunday, May 8 at 3 p.m., both at the Saenger Theater in Biloxi.

The performances will combine the talents of local choreographers and local dancers into an extravaganza of ballet and jazz, Black said. Music from Broadway will be featured in the jazz portion of the program with selections from Annie, West Side Story, The Wiz and Dream Girls.

The apprentice company of the Gulf Coast Dance Theatre will appear in the selection from Annie.

Also on the program will be "Jettie Cats" from the musical Cats, music by Andrew Lloyd Webber. This jazz presentation has been choreographed by Sharon Montgomery of Diamondhead.

Miss Montgomery is a recent graduate of Texas Christian University, with a degree in ballet performance. She has been a guest artist for the Gulf Coast Dance Theatre and has choreographed previous spring performances.

Tickets for the performance are available at Anthony's Men's Wear in Bay St. Louis. Prices are $5 for adults and $3 for students and senior citizens.

The New Orleans Jazz and Heritage Festival is being held this weekend (April 29, 30 and May 1) and next weekend (May 7, 8). And if you've never been, by all means, go!

This outdoor celebration of New Orleans music and food is a lavish, bustling affair.

Nearly continuous music is played on five separate stages from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. Along with local musicians like Ernie K-Doe, Allen Toussaint, the Neville Brothers and Clarence "Gatemouth" Brown, there will be some national recording stars including Al Green, Roy Orbison, Pete Seeger, Tina Turner and Al Hirt.

Juxtaposed among the sound stages there are booths serving delicious food ranging from fried alligator in piquante sauce to barbecued turkey necks to wonderful New Orleans' style po-boys.

SOME TIPS

* Go early. The traffic backs up quickly and there are only about 8,000 parking spaces at the Fairgrounds. If you don't want to fight the crowds, there's a shuttle bus that leaves the Superdome every 15 minutes. The $8 price for the shuttle includes one adult admission to the Festival.

* Bring your own beverages and food. Of course you'll want to sample some of the delicious food that abounds at the Festival, but for the economy-minded individual a couple pre-packaged sandwiches work wonders about 2 p.m.

As for the beverages, opened bottle containers are prohibited at the Festival, but anything else goes. You might want to consider bringing a container of water with you because the sun gets mighty hot during the day.

Bring a blanket and a beach umbrella if you have one. This way you can set up a "home base" to come back to throughout the day. Stage 1 is generally where the big name stars play so it's generally more crowded than the other stages. Cut, rest assured, wherever you set up there will be good music and a lot of crazy people around.

* Visit the gospel tent. This tent rocks and the people are fabulous. You'll probably have a better time here than most any other place at the Festival.

* Other essentials include: Hat, long-sleeved shirt for later in the day, sun tan lotion, sunglasses and a camera.

Saturate yourself in sun, suds and music; the New Orleans Jazz and Heritage Festival is one of the best things that the Crescent City has to offer. Enjoy!

During the age of the Romans, balloting was done with beans. White beans were a vote of approval and dark beans meant a negative vote.

Humane Society's flea market will be held in May

The Harrison County Humane Society will hold its semi-annual spring flea market in conjunction with Be Kind To Animals Week, at the business office area on Washington Avenue, in Gulfport May 5, 6 and 7, from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

There will be a great variety to select from at bargain prices with everything imaginable from books, clothes, kitchen utensils, linens, furniture, brick-a-brack, toys, to ceiling tile.

The Humane Society has gathered together items for the past five weeks, in order to give a broad selection to the public.

Drawing for a $100 jackpot will be held Saturday, May 7, at 3:30 p.m., and 2nd prize will be a hand-made afghan blanket. Come by the Humane Society to register for the jackpot at $1 per chance.

All proceeds go to the Humane Society. The animals need your help, so come by and take advantage of bargains, and at the same time help homeless pets.

Stennis introduces new solar legislation bill

Solar Lobby highly commends Senator John C. Stennis for promoting renewable energy and energy conservation. Sen. Stennis introduced the Renewable Energy National Security Act of 1983, one of four titles of the Solar Energy National Security and Employment (SENSE) Act of 1983 today in the Senate.

Drafted by Solar Lobby, the SENSE Act is a low-cost, bipartisan legislative package that integrates renewable energy and energy conservation to existing federal programs to create jobs, stimulate small business development, and enhance national security.

"Senator Stennis' support of the SENSE Act shows he recognizes the need for a balanced energy program in the United States," praised Solar Lobby political director Scott Sklar.

The four titles of the SENSE

Act are:
— The Renewable Energy Small Business Development Act of 1983
— The Renewable Energy National Security Act of 1983
— The Renewable Energy Employment Act of 1983
— The Renewable Energy Consumer Incentives Act of 1983

Recognizing the need to limit federal expenditures, the SENSE Act concentrates on improving existing federal programs rather than creating new ones. It will provide jobs, save consumers money, decrease our oil import bill, and give the United States valuable new products for export.

According to Senator Stennis, "The wise use of all forms of renewable energy by our military will save taxpayers money and provide greater security in the years to come."

USES OF THE LAND

QUESTION: We read so much in regard to growth of cities and urban development that I was curious about how land in this country is used? B. E., Richton

ANSWER: Dear B. E.:

As you travel throughout the United States, particularly in the northeastern part of the country, the land—or a majority of it—appears to be used for residential and commercial endeavors.

However, when you take into consideration the total land available for use within the 50 states, the amount that we have actually developed is rather small.

Although the population of the United States has tripled since 1900, only five percent of U.S. land is currently devoted to housing, shopping, manufacturing and transportation uses.

Total agriculture usage is more than one-half or about 55 percent, while the remaining 40 percent of the land is forest, recreation and wildlife areas, national defense areas and wasteland.

Forests account for 703 million acres; grassland, pasture and range, 587 million; cropland, 471 million; parks, recreation and military, 158 million acres; and urban and unclassified land, including deserts and swamps, 345 million. The total land area in the United States is about 2.25 billion acres, making this country the fourth largest nation in the world.

To give you some idea of the relatively low population density in this country, consider the following comparison:

Every man, woman and child in all 50 states could inhabit a land area comprised of the states of Oklahoma and Texas and the density or number of people per square mile would be no greater than the average density in Western Europe.

Thus, while it may appear that we are "crowded" in this country, we actually use a very small portion of total available land for housing and commercial uses.

For answer to questions, write Dr. Dennis Tosh, P. O. Box 295, University, MS 38677.
